Pisgah National Forest

The Pisgah National Forest is a land of mile-high peaks, cascading waterfalls, and heavily forested slopes covering over 500,000 acres of mountainous terrain across Western North Carolina. Tremendous recreational opportunities are available within its boundaries including hiking and backpacking. The Mountains-to-Sea Trail, a long-distance recreational trail, travels through this district close to the Blue Ridge Parkway. www.fs.usda.gov/nfsnc

Blue Ridge Parkway

Spanning 469 miles along the crest of the Blue Ridge Mountains, the Parkway runs from the Shenandoah National Park in Virginia to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park in North Carolina. For nearly 100 miles, the Blue Ridge Parkway skirts the western boundary of the Yadkin Valley from Linville Falls, just west of Lenoir, to Cumberland Knob near the Virginia state line. www.blueridgeparkway.org/

Stone Mountain State Park

The mountain from which this park takes its name is not immediately visible upon entering the park, but the magnificent 600-foot granite dome is well worth the wait. Test your fly-fishing skills in the park's more than 20 miles of designated trout waters, or hike one of the park's 16 miles of trails. Designated as a National Natural Landmark in 1975, Stone Mountain is bounded on the north by the Blue Ridge Parkway and on the west by the Thurmond Chatham Game Lands. More than 14,100 acres of mountain beauty offer opportunities for outdoor activities of all kinds. ncparks.gov/state-parks.gov/stone-mountain-state-park

Pilot Mountain State Park

Dedicated as a National Natural Landmark in 1976, Pilot Mountain rises more than 1,400 feet above the rolling countryside of the upper Piedmont plateau and is the centerpiece of Pilot Mountain State Park. Treat yourself to a horseback ride through the woods or challenge the river from raft or canoe. A seven-mile woodland corridor joins two sections of the park, each section offering a wealth of opportunities for outdoor fun. The mountain segment, which includes the two pinnacles, contains most of the visitor facilities. The more primitive river section centers around the lazy, meandering Yadkin River. ### Yadkin River

The Yadkin River is one of the longest rivers in North Carolina, flowing 215 miles from its headwaters near the Blue Ridge Parkway's Thunder Hill Overlook. Several parts of the river are impounded by dams for water, power, and flood control. The Yadkin is extensively used for recreation. Fishing consists mostly of sunfish, catfish, largemouth bass and white bass in the spring and early summer. Canoeing and rafting are also popular. it starts with a river.

From its headwaters near the Blue Ridge Parkway's Thunder Hill Overlook, the Yadkin River flows over 200 miles southeast into South Carolina, making it one of the longest rivers in North Carolina.

For thousands of years, Native Americans made their homes across the Yadkin River Valley. In the early 1700's, European immigrants and African slaves settled near the Yadkin's fertile banks, the life-sustaining river providing not only water, but also a means for fishing and travel. Its water power drove gristmills, forges, and sawmills that spurred economic development. Today, fishing, canoeing, kayaking and rafting are favorite pastimes as the river meanders around towns, farms, forests, and lush vineyards.

The Yadkin River valley is teeming with history. Evidence of Native American activities in the region date back 12,000 years. The landscape was heavily trod by the soldiers of two great American wars - today, historical markers are the only reminders of battles, skirmishes and trails that crisscrossed the countryside.

Experience a historic county jail, a Revolutionary War hero's home, even a Confederate veteran's gravestone that spawned an American folk legend that lives to this day.

Seasonal festivals celebrate the agriculture, music, crafts and heritage of the Yadkin Valley. MerleFest, the internationally renowned music festival founded by legendary musician Doc Watson, draws thousands each April to experience a mix of traditional and contemporary roots music.

Compete in a blackberry eating contest at the North Carolina Blackberry Festival in July, and enjoy crafts, music, food and entertainment. Enjoy the bounty of the harvest each September at the Yadkin Valley Harvest Festival. Sample the fruit of the vine each May at the Yadkin Valley Wine Festival. To see a complete list of the many festivals in our region, visit goyadkinvalley.com.

If your idea of fun includes hiking, biking, kayaking and canoeing, the Yadkin Valley offers all of that and more. Visit shops, restaurants, galleries, and antique stores, take in a farmers market or festival, tour our vast array of wineries and sample award-winning wines, then spend the night at a historic bed and breakfast or hotel.

Here, you'll discover a thriving, vibrant region, proud of its history and heritage and welcoming you to partake in its bounty.

a getaway, that's not faraway.

Some find similarities in the stunning landscape of the Yadkin Valley to other renowned wine growing areas around the world, but our region boasts its own unique character and wines - from Muscadine to Merlot, Chardonnay to Viognier. The state's wine industry traces its roots to Sir Walter Raleigh's Roanoke Island Colony, where North Carolina's native scuppernon grape was first cultivated.

The elevation, microclimates and soil composition of our protected river basin combine to make the Yadkin Valley a premier region for producing quality wine grapes.
